ABOUT ME

I am a multi-skilled Producer with a variety of experience in high-quality productions. My experience ranges from documentaries and online content, to studio recorded broadcasts shown across major channels such as BT, BBC, Red Bull, and Channel 4.

I am responsible for developing concepts, scripts, capturing and producing content - as well as editing and edit producing numerous VT's on previous projects. I thrive on being involved in all aspects of programming, to expand my skills further and strengthen my understanding of the industry.

Producing exciting, original content to a high standard is something that I genuinely love doing, whether the brief asks for out of the box content or to create a new edge to a pre-existing format. I am able to work creatively and cohesively individually or within a team and am able to adapt to last minute changes efficiently and effectively.

I am bilingual, using spoken and written Welsh frequently in both my professional and personal life.
